Gen. Montgomery Praises Canadian First Division

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 7.—(CPI)—Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery today praised the Canadian 1st Division as "veteran soldiers of the 8th Army."

The desert warrior, commander of the five-division 8th Army, out-flanked the Canadians in Sicily, said that the Canadian advance from the Pachino beaches to Mount Etina in the heart of Sicily was "simply wonderful—quite amazing."

"The Canadian division travelled farther in Sicily and fought longer than any division of the 8th Army," he said. "They have had the hardest work of any division because they were always on the outer circle of the advance, with the most frightful physical conditions and ground to contend with."

"They've been our left wing and their performance is simply wonderful."

"It's amazing how hard they have done it—quite amazing. They came here under fire and cracked away at once like veterans. I'd call them veteran soldiers of the 8th Army. Their training in England has been invaluable."

Chief Announces Veteran Police Official Named Superintendent

Announcement was made Saturday by Chief Constable Reginald Jennings that Detective Inspector John Leslie had been appointed superintendent and deputy chief of the Edmonton police force.

Chief Jennings announced also that vacancies for detective inspector, detective sergeant, and one detective were being filled in accordance with the Police Association's agreement with the city for the promotion of men on the staff to these positions. Applications for the new posts have been invited from members of the police force in the postings which were made Saturday.

Chief Superintendent Leslie joined the police force on July 2, 1914, almost a year after his arrival here from Scotland. He was appointed chief orderly in November 1914, and on Jan. 2, 1920, was promoted to the rank of sergeant.

In February, 1920, he was appointed instructor in police law, police procedure and discipline. He was clerk of the court for many years, and was promoted to the position of detective inspector about three years ago.

Outside his police work he is an active member of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada of which he is Dominion general secretary. He was secretary of the Alberta branch from 1923 to 1927 and national secretary since 1927.

He was manager of the Canadian team and field team at the British Empire Games at Hamilton in 1930, and in 1932 was one of the officials in charge of the Canadian team at the Olympic Games in Los Angeles. In 1938 he was assistant manager of the Canadian team at the British Empire Games at Sydney, Australia.

Promoted

Staff Superintendent John Leslie, whose appointment to that post was announced Saturday by chief of Police Reginald Jennings, was appointed last as deputy chief of police.

MOSCOW, Aug. 7.—Russian tank and motorized columns, bettering the speed of their winter offensive, crashed through the northwestern defenses to within 18 miles of outflanked Kharkov today and threatened to envelop Russia's fourth largest city from the rear.

(British military observers in London forecast that the Russian capture of Kharkov may be "only a matter of days.")

The latest advance put the Russians within striking distance of Kharkov, from which the city was evacuated last week. Other forces are within 25 miles due north of the city.

(A German communiqué said that Russian attacks, supported by strong infantry and tank formations, were repulsed in hard, fluctuating fighting southwest of Belgorod and near Voronezh (Donets).)

ZOLOCHEV CAPTURED
Zolochov, 22 miles northwest of Kharkov, fell to Soviet forces yesterday only 24 hours after they had reduced the Axis bastion at Belgorod, 35 miles in the northeast. The winter it took the Russians four days to cover the same distance—and only three days since they captured Kharkov.

Streaming through a 45-mile-wide breach in the Axis defenses above Kharkov, the Russians hammered the enemy back behind Russian railheads that offered nothing.

Canadian Red Patch Devils Avenge Dieppe

By HAROLD V. BOYLE

WITH THE CANADIANS IN NORTHWESTERN SICILY, AUG. 5.—(Delayed)—(AP)—The rugged Canadians of the 1st Division—the Germans know them fearfully as "The Red Patch Devils"—have taken the ball around left and right in the first leg of their flight overseas where they will go into operations over enemy territory.

Prior to the take-off of the plane was christened by Mrs. C. G. Power, wife of the air minister.

The big plane was manned by an all-Canadian crew—Sgt. L. Reg. J. Lane, D.F.C., D.F.C., of Victoria, pilot; P.O. Steve Brown, Saskatoon; P.O. Jean Carver, Cochrane, Ont.; P.O. Sgt. R. W. (Bill) Wright, Saskatoon; P.O. Sgt. Reg. Burgess, Regina; P.O. Sgt. W. G. Webb, Glenora, Sask., and Mike Bazinski of Brandon, Man.

Since landing on Pachino peninsula in southwestern Sicily, they have jumped 140 miles in a great arc, capturing the town of Zolochov, they fought Italian, and for half-way Germans, sometimes taking some towns—ruling on captured enemy vehicles.

1,300 SQUARE MILES
This far took long flying by the rocky, battle-scarred lands where a crimson shoulder patch as their divisional emblem has garnered some 1,300 square miles of Sicilian countryside, captured 4,000 Italian and 700 Germans, and killed an estimated 900 to 1,000 more Germans.

These fighting men who waited 24 hours in grumbling impatience to get a crack at the Axis for have captured huge stores of enemy equipment. How much they frank don't know because they immediately take all salvageable weapons and equipment and use them against the enemy.

The Canadians think they now have taken the stage, and that the German troops are being driven back. Continued on Page 2, Col. 2

LONDON, Aug. 7.—(CPI)—German authorities were reported today that panic-stricken Berlin residents have fled from the city in a stampede.

The stampede was reported by German officials as a result of the city's evacuation of Berliners expecting imminent Nazi air attacks.

Spanish correspondents indicated that non-military developments of unusual interest were going on in Berlin, and Nazi propaganda minister Goebbels acknowledged a "partial evacuation" of the capital because of fears of attack.

The evacuation was reportedly by members of the Luftwaffe, who were fighting to hold them against C.C.F. candidates in early riding and against a number of others who raise the total of candidates to 13.

The Progressive Conservative party is not offering candidates in any of the ridings.

The new Liberal Party, headed by the party of Maxime Baillargeon, member for Beauharnois-LaPatrie, who left the Liberal party to join the Conservative party, was reported today as having carried out a general election campaign in the province of Quebec.

Smolensk, 220 miles west of Moscow and probably the most important German base in the Soviet Union, would be completely cut off from the rest of the world by the Russian advance.

The information from the party said that the German advance was being slowed by the Russian advance, and that the German advance was being slowed by the Russian advance.

Shattered Enemy Line Falling Back to Hills, Yanks Occupy Island

By VIRGIL PINKLEY

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, Aug. 7.—American doughboys have captured the mountain-top stronghold of Troina in fierce fighting and the main Axis defense line, shattered at key points, was believed falling today under heavy bombing to the hills north of Mount Etina.

A total of 125,000 prisoners have been taken by the Allies and Italian troops seemed to have been withdrawn completely from the front lines. Germans defending Troina lost heavily when American 7th Army units, supported by a great artillery and dive-bomber attack, seized the city.

It also was announced that the Allies had occupied the tiny volcanic island of Ustica, 40 miles north of Palermo, as the campaign entered its fifth week.

(Radio Algiers said the latest Allied advances had narrowed the front from the north to the east coasts to 15 miles.)

Troina, atop a 3,600-foot peak, fell after a week-long siege marked by fierce fighting and its capture opened the way for an American drive toward Enna, 11 air miles to the east, on the highway looping around the western slopes of Mt. Etina.

Held by Suicide Force
The peak was held by a German suicide force of 1,500 who held out against terrific 100-gun artillery barrages and air raids by as many as 70 dive-bombers at a time. Key positions on its approaches changed hands several times in a single day in the see-saw battle that preceded its fall.

Alberta Flier Is Among Top Sicilian Aces

OTTAWA, Aug. 7.—(CP)—An airman occupied by one of the first fighter formations to be established in Sicily after the Allied invasion showed clearly the "devastating" effects of Allied bombing and shelling. Pilot Bob Francis, R.C.A.F. public relations officer, reported in a delayed dispatch made public last night by air headquarters.

Writing from "Somewhere in Sicily," Francis said the information, in which a number of R.C.A.F. pilots serve in various squadrons, found hangars, barracks, administration and control buildings shattered, generally beyond repair.

A number of 108 German fighters, were found in good condition and were able to be flown, others stood, burned or damaged, in their bays.

Though the squadrons at this particular field are all R.A.F. units, a westerner leading a fight in one squadron, is Pte. L. J. Johnston, from Selkirk, Man. in the same squadron, is Pte. George Keith of Taber, Alta.

Since being posted from Britain, Keith has run his score of enemy aircraft destroyed up and kept, making him one of the leading Canadian pilots in the Sicilian theatre of war.

Blackmore Sees Money For All By Coupon Plan

WINNIPEG, Aug. 7.—(CP)—John Blackmore, New Democracy leader, said in an address here last night that under a social credit government "we would do in peace what we are now doing in war—creating, by the coupon system, money enough for everyone."

The New Democracy leader, growing in support of Max Baile, Halderson, Social Credit candidate in the Selkirk federal by-election Monday, said that under a social credit system eventually a barrier system of trading goods for money would be established.

He said under the system of issuing more coupons, inflation could result only when more coupons were created than there were goods produced.

Canadian Infantry and Artillery Rout Axis in Sicily

These first pictures of the Canadians in action in Sicily give striking evidence of the teamwork of Canadian artillery and infantry which blasted Axis troops from their positions. Top view shows men of the famous Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry advancing towards a German transport convoy which has been blasted to a halt by mechanized artillery. Bottom picture was taken while Canadian gunners were laying down a deadly barrage on the convoy. They left it ablaze and easy prey for the infantrymen. Puffs of smoke in the background, on the hillside leading toward Enna, are exploding shells.

Merchant Sailors To Learn Gunner

By STANLEY MANTHORP

MONTREAL, Aug. 7.—(CP)—

Canada's merchant sailors are going back to school to pick up a bit of knowledge that will spell trouble for German armen and destruction for enemy aircraft.

With the Royal Canadian Navy anxious to give every type of defensive equipment available to the expanding Canadian merchant fleet, more men who can handle a gun in an emergency are needed, and the navy recently opened gunnery schools in conjunction with seamen's training pools at a number of Canadian ports.

The schools have real weapons for protection against submarines and aircraft and the men are taught how to use them. The course consists of a one-day lesson in the use of the weapons, and the navy has provided films of actual aircraft attacks at sea.

Anglo-American warships, as well as artillery batteries. Night bombers divided their attention between Axis invasion ships, making in Messina harbor and Naples, which was blasted for the fifth time in six days last night.

Premier Mussolini used as a place of banishment for political opponents, was occupied by combined U.S. and navy military forces. Thursday and the garrison of 100 Italian soldiers and sailors made prisoners. All Germans left the island July 31.

Two hundred and sixteen Italian civil prisoners and a guard were found on the coast. In addition to 1,100 civilians, who were destitute and without water. Many were ill with malaria.

American destroyers, meantime were credited with sinking one heavily-laden enemy lighter and one of two escorting torpedo boats south of Lipari island off the Sicilian north coast Tuesday night.

21 SMALL CRAFT SUNK
In the offensive against Axis ships in Sicilian waters, sank 21 barges and four other small vessels Thursday night, a communiqué said.

British naval forces concentrated their bombardments on the Sicilian east coast road near Taormina, 28 miles south of Messina, where previous shelling caused land mines completely blocked that vital highway.

All enemy sea traffic has ceased in this area, too, the communiqué said, and mine sweepers have been clearing a channel into Catania, the big east coast port which fell to British forces Thursday.

ALL-OUT AIR ATTACK
Allied air forces pressed an all-out offensive against roads and communications in the Messina area and against the highway junction of Randazzo and Gesso to the south and west, respectively, through which retreating Italian-German armies must pass.

Enemy transport also was attacked in southern Italy, while the Naples railroad last night concentrated on the docks and railway communications.

Two enemy planes were shot down during the 24 hours ended last night and eight Allied planes were lost.

(An Italian communiqué broadcast by the Rome radio said Allied raids on Naples, Messina and places in Salerno and Cassino provinces of southern Italy had caused only light damage.)

R.A.F. four-engine Liberator and Halifax heavy bombers from the Middle-Eastern command bombed San Giovanni, Italian mainland ferry terminus across a narrow strait from Messina, Friday night and started fire near the terminus building and northwest of the railway station. Other fires were observed among railway sidings south of the harbor. All planes returned safely.

Shipsmen Will Get Vacation With Pay
OTTAWA, Aug. 7.—(CP)—The national war labor board announced last night that vacation with pay will become the rule from this date on in all shipyards under its jurisdiction where such working conditions did not exist formerly. ## Russian Drive Now 18 Miles From Kharkov

The Soviet offensive of last winter carried straight through Kharkov without a halt, then pressed on almost to the banks of the Dnieper River. But a German counter-offensive drove the Russians out of Kharkov and Belgorod a month ago.

CAPTURE 150 TOWNS
Bettering their winter mark the Russians advanced 35 to 37 miles from Kharkov, 25 miles west of Belgorod, and Tamarova, 18 miles west northwest of Belgorod.

Some 250 miles to the north, other Russian armies surging through captured Orel were believed nearing Karachev, 45 miles from the west bank of the Dnieper.

Advances of 35 to 60 miles were chalked up by the Soviets on the Bryansk front yesterday and more than 70 towns, including the high-gate junction of the Dnieper and southwest of Orel, were liberated.

Russian tank and infantry forces were smashing ahead in pursuit of the beaten Axis Orel armies on July 31. The Soviets were said to have a chance to dig in behind a new defense line.

1,500 NAZIS KILLED
One Soviet formation yesterday killed more than 1,000 Germans and destroyed 10 tanks and 18 guns in overwhelming force. More than 2,000 were killed in one sector southwest of Orel and 10 tanks were wrecked or captured.

Soviet air force bombers and assault planes blasted and strafed enemy columns retreating toward Bryansk, inflicting heavy casualties despite determined resistance by enemy fighters. Fifty German planes were shot down.

German losses in the two phases—offensive and counter-offensive—during the past month were estimated by the bureau at 120,000 Germans killed, 140,000 taken prisoner or disabled, 1,825 guns destroyed or disabled, 11,000 trucks wrecked or damaged and 2,400 planes shot down.

TAKE 12,418 PRISONERS
In addition, the bureau said the Russians captured 12,418 prisoners, 521 guns, 2,521 machine-guns and 322 various stores.

The significance of the German defeat was indicated by the fact that Hitler in an order of the day to his troops on the eve of their abortive Kursk offensive said the attack had been the turning point for the course of the war.

This, which by Germany's last battle for victory, Hitler was quoted as saying.

The Soviet bureau asserted that the success of the Russian counter-offensive had "deprived the German command of freedom in manoeuvring their troops and thus created even more favorable conditions for the opening of a second front in western Europe."

Flood Death Toll In United States Is Now Seventeen
SUTTON, W. Va., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Searchers came upon the bodies of two youthful victims of the receding flood waters of central West Virginia yesterday, bringing the toll of dead to 17, while four others were still missing in the stricken West Virginia area.

State health department and Red Cross representatives entered the flood zone to check water supplies and assist in rehabilitation of areas of homes.

Much dead livestock and the wreckage of homes, highways and railroad bridges, cluttered the stricken area. Telephone communications were being restored and roads were being cleared.

CATANIA, Sicily, Aug. 7.—(Delayed)—The mayor of Catania, Marquis San Giuliano, officially welcomed British military authorities to Sicily's second city today and said the Germans had looted homes, and deprived the 80,000 inhabitants remaining in the city of food for 24 hours before British troops arrived.

Sitting in a spacious office in the Carabinieri headquarters, beneath a huge photograph of King Victor Emmanuel, the dapper little mayor turned over his battle-scarred city to a brigadier, who commanded the first troops to sweep through Catania in pursuit of the fleeing Germans.

The mayor spoke bitterly of the captured Germans and vowed unflinchingly that Fascists and the Germans are enemies of Italy.

His bitterness accentuated when he told the British commander how the Nazi troops on their last night here, on Aug. 6, had looted the city, which had been the German headquarters, the city's electric works and the post office.

CONSTANTLY RULLED
"They used to be wonderfully smart and cheerful soldiers," the mayor said, "but since they found us constantly and stole food, clothing and household belongings, and sold them in other cities and villages."

Only about 50,000 of Catania's 80,000 inhabitants remained in the city before the Allied advance, the mayor said, and most of them had no eaten in the past 24 hours.

"I appealed to the Brigadier for permission to repair the electricity works in order to operate the flour mills and use big supplies of wheat stored near the city."

The Allied commander immediately complied and at the same time informed San Giuliano that the local authorities and police were given responsibility for restoring looting and restoring order.

The mayor disclosed that nearly 2,000 civilians had been killed in Allied air raids since June 15, and that more than half of the 50,000 who remained in the city, were forced to live constantly in basement air raid shelters.

The Germans started to leave the Catania sector three days ago, San Giuliano said, after attempting by various means to block the Allied advance.

CHAR LOOTED, STOLEN
"They looted my car once," he explained, "and stole it from me at the point of a machine gun this morning to carry ammunition in a machine gun pool at a road running north of the city. I told the first British officer I met about the machine gun pool and he fixed it."

The Germans tried to tell us they were fighting for Italy, but we couldn't understand why they didn't fight. But we knew they were not fighting to keep you out of the European mainland as long as possible."

Charter Based On Liberalism
Says Gardiner

ENGLEFIELD, Sask. Aug. 7.—(CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner, speaking here on behalf of Frank Irvine, Liberal candidate in the Humboldt by-election, said the underlying principle of the Atlantic charter was that of British liberalism.

He said free trade and free enterprise, as advocated by the Liberal party of Canada, formed the basis of the charter.

Interchange of goods, the minister said, was the key to future freedom of the people of the world as opposed to state intervention.

Buy Outfielder
WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Outfielder Jack Powell, currently leading 20th St. Paul of the American Association, is coming back to the team which gave him his big league start 12 years ago, the Washington Senators. Owner Clark Griffith announced the purchase Friday.

Now in Army

First Sicily Battle Pictures Show Canadians in Action

Sweep of the tidal wave of Canadian fighting strength across Sicily is recorded in these first battle scenes to reach Catania. Ankle-deep mud on Sicilian trails which compelled the men to hold wet handkerchiefs over their heads failed to stem the Canucks' onward surge. Pte. A. J. Franklin, of Pictou, Ont. (left) and Pte. N. F. Rossman of South Ste. Marie, Ont., are seen at left on a typical Sicilian road. Right view shows a group of Italian prisoners giving the popular "V" for Victory sign and happily awaiting the trip to internment camp.

German Prisoners and Dead Evidence of Canadian Success

Gundar Haegg Will Go After 2-Mile Mark

CINCINNATI, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Gundar Haegg, Swedish runner of the measured miles, makes his second-long appearance on American cinder tracks at Wilkeson Stadium this evening. His sights are on clinching his own ten-mile mark of 8:15.

Kell Pearson, Haegg's inter-province coach, telephoned A. A. I. officials from Jamestown, N.Y. that his charge preferred a try at the longer distance, he originally was scheduled to compete against his own American mile record of 4:03.3 and that he would not reach Cincinnati until Saturday, a few hours before his track appearance.

Plotted against him will be Gil Dodds, his chief American rival. Bill Hulse, New York university who broke the American record for the outdoor mile in Cleveland last week while cutting around in Hagg and Bob Beegs of Bay Village, O.

Beggs, who was second in the two-mile event at Cleveland, will have a 9:40 yard start, or one and one-half laps around the stadium.

Canadian, British Thrust In Simeto River Valley May Be Key to Victory

The following delayed dispatch describes the situation, following the Canadians as they started the battle for Agnone which was in progress.—EDITOR

By ROSS MUNRO
WITH THE CANADIANS FACING MOUNT ETNA, Sicily, Aug. 3.—(Delayed)—(CP)—In the valley of the Simeto river, which twists through mountains dominated by volcanic Mount Etna the British and Canadian forces may seal the fate of Germany's Sicilian garrison before another week passes.

Making the most of the Canadian bridgehead established over the Dittano River with the fall of Catenanzano, which was captured July 28, infantry, tanks and they advanced over the mountains. With the fall of Regalbuto and Catenanzano, Aug. 3, the most decisive in the Simeto Valley where a strong German Mount Etna line is believed to be the forward position to the north side of the dried riverbed.

The Canadian and British forces are pointing their guns and infantry towards the valley and the threat is drawing German reserves from the Catania front. Clark's German parachute battalions, fighting as infantry, moved into the line opposite the line between the British 8th and American 15th armies.

At bottom, a German soldier sprawls grotesquely as mute evidence of the bitter fighting which took place when Canadians of the Carleton and York Regiment met the Germans south of Enna.

Prof. B. F. Vancamp, University of T. C. Boule, general secretary, Canadian Medical Association, Toronto.

ENCOURAGING FEATURE
One of the most encouraging features in this morning's report is the way the commanders avoided pushing the infantry forward without strong artillery support. There has been nothing approaching a blood battle where the German tanks came out of the line in response.

The campaign has been fought with maximum consideration in this sector, at any rate, for human lives. The commanders are making the guns and tanks work for the infantry, clearing paths and giving support.

To cutting up the guns was for the batteries, he said. While they could take the hill themselves they would lose half as many men with the guns behind. That's the rule I follow.

On the northern shore the Americans are maintaining the left flank. The Germans are exploiting every geographic advantage and one officer said: "The enemy is using Mount Etna as we would use three divisions. It is worth three divisions to them."

KEY TO FINAL VICTORY
The smashing Canadian flanking movement from Pachino to the outskirts of Enna, and then east through Agira and Regalbuto, is beginning to show full results. With the British support the Canadian line is receding. It may be the key to final victory.

The Canadian and British formations are faced with the task now of clearing the way between Pachino and the Simeto Valley to come to grips with the main German force if it makes a stand there.

Advancing in the valley is a link-up point between the German in the North facing the Americans, and the southern section of their line, facing the Canadian and British forces.

The dried-out Simeto riverbed is invaluable to infantry, but the tanks are stuck and cuttings have to be made and endways built by the engineers before vehicles can follow up. This is what happened at the Dittano river and there will be the same problem in the Simeto valley. The Germans are exploiting every geographic advantage and one officer said: "The enemy is using Mount Etna as we would use three divisions. It is worth three divisions to them."

PLAN for WINTER By WINTERIZING your HOME NOW

Let the sun shine into your home while you get it ready for winter, and when cold weather comes, your daylight home will be an anticipation, as on winter days in July. These homes must be constructed as well as made hot, heavy equipment must be put in good repair, to keep you home to victory!

1. INSULATE: A wall to one of these homes shows will bring an expert to inspect your home and tell you the quickest, most expensive way to insulate it will be least light and weight.
2. REPAIR ROOF: There are a few more spots of the roof that are in need of repair because it may be rotted with decay and doing so now will save you the trouble of having to do it later.
3. WEATHER STRIP: Windows and doors are the most important places to get rid of cold air. Weather strip doors and windows will keep the cold air out and the heat in.
4. CATERING: It's not your house that's the problem, it's the weather. Get it ready now and you'll be in for a good winter.

Daily War Map—Exclusively in The Edmonton Bulletin

Sicily, biggest of the Mediterranean islands, may soon be under a new flag—that of the United Nations. Here is the lineup of 10 key islands in that embattled sea, showing comparative sizes and current possessions. Pantellaria and Lampedusa have already fallen to the Allies. Sardinia,

Crete and Rhodes, in the Dodecanese, may be next on the bombing or invasion list. Cyprus and Malta are key Allied bases for attack. And even Spain's Majorca, in the Balearic group, occupies a precarious position.

"My country China, for six years, has hung like a millstone around the neck of the Japanese military and succeeded in preventing Japan from utilizing several millions of her armed forces and workers in other parts of the world. With ill-equipped men we have fought with small arms, flesh and blood, and the will to battle."

Today... More Than Ever Before

CHINA NEEDS YOUR HELP!

The cost of war cannot be measured in dollars—for hour by hour thousands of men are dying on the battlefields and behind the lines, and hundreds of millions of men, women, and little children are suffering from cold and hunger and privation. But in terms of money alone each hour this war goes on costs us $575,000! There is an imperative demand on us all to bring to a speedy and victorious end this staggering drain on all the resources Canada has accumulated through the years.

The $1,000,000 we are asking for the people of China this year would keep this war going a bare 105 minutes. Is there any investment we could make that would pay comparable dividends, even from a military standpoint alone? For keeping China a strong, friendly ally means not only the assurance of ultimate victory but also the shortening of this war by many months or years.
